

GABRIEL SWAGEL

Ph.D. Candidate in Economics, Princeton University ◊ gswagel@princeton.edu

EDUCATION

Princeton University	2022-2028 (Exp.)
Ph.D. Candidate, Economics
Princeton University	2024
M.A., Economics
Princeton University	2020
A.B., magna cum laude in Economics; Minor in Computer Science

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Health, Public

PUBLICATIONS

1. Providers, Places, and Children's Mental Health Care

Forthcoming, Journal of Human Resources

Children's mental health is the defining public health crisis of our time. Using the largest repository of private insurance claims in the United States, I provide the first systematic quantification of the variation in children's mental health prescribing in the U.S. I separate variation due to 1) primary care provider (PCP) prescribing intensities, 2) regional practice environments, and 3) child health and demand. Equalizing PCP intensities would reduce the variance of provider prescribing rates by 50 percent for ADHD and 65 percent for antidepressants. Analyzing geographic variation alone significantly understates the extent of treatment variation and the role of providers.

WORKS IN PROGRESS

1. Information and Moral Hazard in a Second-Best World: Evidence from Emergency Care

2. Evaluating Private Equity Acquisitions of Residential Mental Health Facilities

with Janet Currie

3. A Framework for Modeling Social Program Take-up, with an Application to SNAP

with Kate Ho and Eduardo Morales

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant to Prof. Janet Currie (Princeton)	2023
Pre-doctoral Research Fellow to Prof. Amy Finkelstein (MIT)	2020-2022
Research Assistant to Prof. Ram Fishman (Tel Aviv University)	2018

TEACHING

Princeton University

Teaching Assistant to Prof. Hope Corman, Junior Independent Work	2024-2025
Teaching Assistant to Prof. Kelly Noonan, Health Economics	Spring 2025

AWARDS AND HONORS

Prize Fellowship in the Social Sciences , Princeton University	2025-2027
Doctoral Fellowship , Princeton University	2022-2027
Honorable Mention , NSF Graduate Research Fellowship Program	2022
Senior Thesis Prize in Economics , Princeton University	2020

SEMINAR AND CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

2025: Janet Currie Festschrift (Princeton), Annual Health Econometrics Workshop
2026: Essen Health Conference, ASHEcon

SERVICE

Referee:

Journal of Health Economics

Other:

Coordinator, PREDOC Pre-Doctoral Research Workshop 2022

LANGUAGES AND TECHNICAL SKILLS

Programming Skills	Stata, Julia, R, SQL, MATLAB
Languages	English (native), Hebrew (fluent)

September 2026